

Agile Project Manager

Lead impactful software projects — and help build what comes next

About OpenValue

OpenValue is a premium full-stack and Java consulting company with offices across Europe and the US. We support global enterprise clients and partners to deliver better software, faster. Our team includes recognized Java champions who use cutting-edge open-source tech to solve complex challenges. We're active contributors to the international Java community and trusted by some of the world's largest companies.

The Role

We're hiring an Agile Project Manager for our Dusseldorf/Munich office (hybrid). You'll lead Agile software projects for major global clients - managing timelines, risks, and stakeholder communication. You'll collaborate closely with the Delivery Manager to continuously improve processes and drive successful delivery.

What you'll bring

- Proven Agile project management experience, ideally with enterprise clients
- Strong knowledge of Agile methods (Scrum, Kanban); scaled Agile is a plus
- Excellent communication and stakeholder management skills
- Experience managing complex IT projects
- Fluent in German and English (required)
- Bachelor's degree in IT or related field
- Agile/project management certifications a plus (CSM, PSM, SAFe, PMP)
- A positive attitude, team player mindset, and good sense of humor—we take team happiness seriously around here!

Keen to explore this challenging position?

We would love to hear from you. Apply via <https://openvalue.eu/career> or reach out to our recruiter Christiaan at christiaan@openvalue.nl.